NEWPORT.

BY GRANSTON & NORMAR 127 THAMES STREET.

SATURDAY MORNING, OCT. 5, 1959.

II Thurlow Weed, of the Alleme Ex ening Journal, says that Washington Hun will accent the Whig nomination for Govemort he adds that he is aware that the divisions in the Syracuse Convention have been to Mr. Hunt a source of serious embarrassment, and that his personal inclinanations would have prompted him to de-Gine rather than become the candidate of a divided political household. Truly, this is very modest, yet perfectly characteristic of Weed. We ask him who caused this division in the Syracuse Convention, and who are the authors of the Schiem in the party? He well knows that all this mischief has been effected by Seward, himself, and Greeley, by their unpardonable anxiety to rule, not only the reliner of New York, but the affairs of he whole country, and to dictate terms of policy to the President and his Cabinot .-These three inch are at the bottom of the whole trouble, and it ill-becomes any of them to talk and twattle about the " divided political household." Had they been in their graves, or had they conducted like bonest men and true-hearted. Whige, their mock lamentations would not have been needed now. They very well know that they agreed not to offer any resolution laudatory of Seward into that Convention but they boiled from that agreement, mainly through the instrumentality of Greeley, and deliberately threw the bomb-shell, into the Cunvention. Such conduct on the part of Horaco Greeley comes with an oxceedingly ill-grace, for he bolted against the proceedings of the Philadelphia Convention which numinated Taylor and Fillmore, in June 1848; although these nominations were made in June, it was not until the 2d of October that Greeley placed the Whig ticket in his columns, or attered one word in favor of the Whig candidates. On the centrary, he did all that he could indirectly, against them, until the very last moment,-and then, when he had accomplished all the mischief that he could, he came into the ranks, at the eleventh hour, simply to eave himself with the party.--And now he is at his old tricks, making mischief, and embarrassing the party. We have no patience with such a man, and we are opposed to countenancing such plish. So long as he is recognised by the party, in the slightest degree, so long must the party be, in a measure, responsible for his acts. We say disown him, and the precious trio to which he belongs, and let Soward, Weed and Greoley start off or he ir own account, or go to whatever party will take them; though we must confess that wheever received them, would make a lamentably bad bargain. IF We publish the following latter from Hiram Ketchum, Esq., to the editors of the New York Commercial Advertiser .-It is a well-written letter in regard to the recent proceedings of the recent Convention at Syracuse, and will be read with more high-minded, true-hearted Whig in the country than Hiram Ketchum, and everything which consustes from his pen is worthy the most careful consideration :-The secession of a portion of the Whig Convention, at the recent session of this hody at Syracuse, has been the subject of much comment. This was to be expected. I attended that convention as a speciator, and I propose to state briefly what I saw i much interest by all Whige. There is no

and heard, in the character of a witness. On my way to Syracuso, and after my arrival there, which was the day before the convention assembled, I conversed with a number of delegates, as many as I could find access to. Among these were some of Mr. Saward's friends. With one consent they expressed their willingness and desire to past resolutions approving the national and state Administrations, but de clared themselves opposed to the introduction of a resolution singling out the enuse of Mr. Soward for approbation. Such a resolution, however much some of them might approve it, it was well understood could not be carried with unanimity, and it was therefore deemed wise not to introduce it, for the sake of harmony.

To this course there was, so far as I heard, only one exception, and that was a dolegate from the city of New York, person recently known as a most vecifer our friend of Mr. Clay. How truly he represented the opinions and feelings of those who sent him, the Whige of the Eighth Watd will decide. If he and Mr. Clay should chance to meet, I should be pleased to be present at the interview.

The Convention assembled; there was no contest about the candidates to be put in nomination ; but the great question was the resolutions to be agreed upon. It was decided to refer this important matter to a committee consisting of 8 persons, one from each judicial district. The committee was chosen with judgment and impartiality by the president, after consultation with leading gestlemen known to represent conflicting interests. The committee retired, and after teveral hours' consultation, in which it was understood there were no great differences of opinion, reported a set of result tions, with grave unanimity, fairly express sing the views of individual members of the convention, already referred to.

A delegate, who finally acted with the imajority, as soon as the reading of the read olutions was ended, inbred their unanimous adoption. Such adoption would have secured the harmony of the convention. The motion did not prevail. At the instance of a delegate, said to be in the omploy of the Evening Journal, the resolutions were laid on the table until the next morning. During the night, and the next morning prior to the assembling of the convention, influences were brought to operate on a majority of the convention, to induce the passage of a resolution warmly approving Mr. Seward's course in the Senate .-No person was more active in the employ ment of these influences than Mr. Greeley. editor of the New York Tribune. He had Defore declared that such a resolution sihould be passed. It was well known that the passage of such a resolution would not be submitted to by a large and very respectable portion of the convention. The resulution was passed, and the result is known. This is a brief statement of the facts.

Now the question arises-what induced a majority of the Convention to change the purpose with which it is confidently beflored, they came to Syracuse, and pass the offensive resolution, forewarned, es they were, of the consequences? In my best judgmoot, the master spirits who brought about this result, intended to cast a censure upon the leading Whige at Washington whose course differed from that of Mr. Seward, on the great questions which have recently agitated the councils of the nation. Among these are Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, Thomas Corwin Mr. Badger and Mr. Mangum, of North Carolina, Mr. Bell, of Tennessee, Mr. Clark and General Greene, of Rhede Island, Mr. Smith, of Connecticut, Mr. Phelos, of Vermont, Mr. Cooper, of Pounsylvania, in the Senate-Mr. Duer, Mr. Ashmun, Mr. Stanley, Mr. Brooks, Mr. Gentry, Mr. Grinnell, and other distinguished Whigs in the House of Representatives. The gentlemen who came out of the convention, could not unite-they refused to be numbered with a body who would east such a censure. They knew that the men who would consent to such an act, however great their number, and by whomsourer chosen, were nor Wittes. Leain : It has evidently been a part of Mr. Seward's course in the Senate, acting in that wisipping of the distributions in that questions which Congress after months of controversy, bringing the country to the very rerge of civil war, had decliled, and renew the angry discussion. To bring about this settlement, and give the country peace, the distinguished Whige where have named as well as the President and his Cabinet, and I may add, from what I personally know, the great military capmin of his country and of the ago, Gun. Scott, whom we all rejoice to call a Whig, and who himself glories in the name, put fully their best personal efforts. Under no circumstance could the goutlemen who retired from the convention consent to be part of a body whose purpose was renewed agitation. By the men who brought about the settlement, and the settlement itself. Mr. Granger, Mr. Duer and their associates decided to stand ; and in this decision it is my hope and belief they will he sustained by the Whigs of the State and the country, and by the National administration itself.

I cannot close this communication without paying a tribute of admiration to the Hon. Francis Granger, who presided over the deliberations of the convention. It was refreshing to see this eminent citizen, whom the Whigs of the State have delighted to honor for nearly a quarter of a century, again occupy a conspicuous place before them. He never booked better. No man could preside with more dignity, intelligence and impartiality, and his closing speech was a masterly specimen of elequeues which no one could fully appreciate who was not present at its delivery. I have reason to know that Mr. Granger attended no caucuses or conferences of any party-he formed his opinion for himself, and he pronounced it with a courtery, ; dignity and a firmness unsurpassed.

63 Park Benjamin, Esq., delivered his Peem on "Fashion,"at the Bellevic Hall, Thursday evening. It was well received and frequently applauded; every one appeared pleased. Owing to an unforseen engagement, Mr. Benjimin was compelled to pustoone the delivery of his lecture on "The Indulgences of the Mind," until a later day, probably some time in Decomber, when he will favor our citizens with that and several others which he is now writing, on topics of a highly interesting nature.

One Week later from Europe.

The steamer Cambria arrived at Halifax Thursday morning, and brings no news of importance, ENGLAND.

It is stated on the authority of the correspondent of the London Herald, under date of Paris, Thursday evening, that arrangements are on foot between Spain on the one side, and England, France and Holland on the other, by which Spain, on condition of having Cuba protected by the joint action of those powers, engages to pay the debt due by her to English, French and Dutch creditors.

At several public meetings, in different places, it has been proposed to bestow a suitable testimonial of public approbation on the brewers and draymen of Barcley & Perkins' establishment for their treatment of Gen. Haynau.-As an offset, the Times states that preparations are making at Vienna, to greet the General on his return with what that journal styles a splended demonstration of loyal devotion. The garrison is to serenade him by torch light, and the emperor is to raise him to the rank of a Marshal of the Empire.-It is also stated on the authority of an Austrian Journal, that the Austrina Minister at London has been instructed to demand the punishment of the men who assaulted the "Butcher" in FRANCE.

The only important political incident of the week, has been the discovery of an Orleanist plot-the documents connected with which whilst they do not implicate any person, afforded the Paris and London press food for very long editorials. The President returned to Paris on Thursday, and his tour is said to have been attended with brilliant success. Some of his friends have commenced to agitate the question of allowing him another 3,000,000 francs for personal expenditures. The proposition meets determination of making no more progresses this season.

Of the whole number of 85 previncial conneils, 49 have passed resolutions in favor of the revision of the derstood, of prolonging the powers of the President. Of the 36 others, 12 only passed resolutions decidedly adverse to the proposed change.

The Government journals contend that the great majority of these councils having admitted the principle of necessity of revision, it is permitted to undertake such revision, according to what may be deemed most advisable for the interests of the country,-The dontrine, however, meets with no faror from the opposition journals, masmuch as a large majority of the councils have accompanied their resolutions with qualifications in favor of the legislative assembly, and with stipnlations that nothing should be done without the consent of the representatives of the people.

About 700 emigrants, chiefly belonging to the old Garde Mobile, are about to leave for California.

The reported changes in the ministry are said to be wholly unfounded.

The Decutes.-Advices from flam burg state that on the 12th, the Holstein army made a forward movement, with the intention of attacking the fortified Bridge, across the Schlye, at Messande. The Danes were driven from their unfortified positions at Koshendorff and other points, into their entrenchments. They were commonsded for about an hour by the Holsteiners' but without effect.

When the firing ceased, and they began to retire, the Danes replaced the bridge which they had previously removed, and crossed over with the intention of harassing the retreat of the Helsteiners, but found them so strong as to render it unadvisable to press their closely.

Gen. Willesen took possession of Pekenford, and established his head place and be quarters at that town in the afternoon, but was subsequeguly forced to retire, owing to the near proximity of the Danish ships.

In Gen. Willisen's proclamation, he says : "We have offered him battle in the open field, on the most favorable circumstances for him. We have de-We have do stroyed all his field works in the east, stroyed an mis near works in the east, by Rehemforde, Holm and Hummolfieldt, and his camp at Kackendorff, and thus proved that he is not so fully master of Schleswig as he gives himself out to be."

Very many Providence people have heard Jenny Lind sirig cither in Boston or New York; and in comsequence of this, the scats did not bring as high a premium as was anticipated by man y.

Buth Genin and Dodge will have to vield the palm to Col. Ross, as he paid i twenty-fire dollars more than the latter who throw the former in the shade, by several hundred dollars. As people fin each city seem determined to lead off in a this kind of folly, no one can tall what their first choice will bring by the time Jenny Lind rouches New Orleans. Of course, a ll this is folly, for the very next seat to time one which brings such a high price, and which is just as good, brings only a preminm of seven dellars and a half.
